while the question is faith reasonable has continually occupied philosophers and theologians little attention has been paid to what faith itself is the act of faith remedies this neglect by looking at what it means for a person of christian faith to believe eric springsted contrasts modern views of faith with the christian tradition running from augustine through aquinas and calvin in reviewing such thinkers as locke and hume springsted discovers that behind modern discussions of the reasonableness of faith lie key assumptions about the human self including the views that the good is a matter of choice and that we can exercise objective uninvolved reason according to springsted however the church has not viewed faith in this way his survey of the augustinian tradition shows that the self our most esteemed christian thinkers had in mind when talking about faith was a moral self one defined by character and self involvement christian faith is at root a participation in the good and reasoning within faith is reasoning within the life of god drawing on contemporary philosophers and theologians like john henry newman and simone weil springsted builds a fresh understanding of faith for today he shows how the inner act of faith is ultimately a radical willingness to be open to god and he argues that the faithful self is one that develops within a community that shapes its members through the morally formative activities of interaction teaching and sacramental practice this book unravels mysteries corrects misunderstandings and offers thoughtful straightforward responses to common objections about the catholic faith bestselling author scott hahn a convert to catholicism has experienced the doubts that so often drive discussions about god and the church in the years before his conversion he was first a nonbeliever and then an anti catholic clergyman in reasons to believe he explains the how and why of the catholic faith drawing from scripture his own struggles and those of other converts as well as from everyday life and even natural science hahn shows that reason and revelation nature and the supernatural are not opposed to one another rather they offer complementary evidence that god exists but he doesn t merely exist he is someone and he has a personality a personal style that is discernible and knowable hahn leads readers to see that god created the universe with a purpose and a form a form that can be found in the book of genesis and that is there when we view the natural world through a microscope through a telescope or through our contact lenses at the heart of the book is hahn s examination of the ten keys to the kingdom the characteristics of the church clearly evident in the scriptures as the story of creation discloses the world is a house that has a father a palace where the king is really present god created the cosmos to be a kingdom and that kingdom is the universal church fully revealed by jesus christ
